Idletimes Spring 2013

Idle Times

A publication for the Greater Idlewild Community

To All Idlewilders:

Winter time is fading but still has some bite left. A series of storms from the west have provided necessary but limited moisture. Hopefully it will continue throughout the summer.

As I mentioned in a prior letter, forest cleanup is an ongoing activity. With the help of Colfax County we'll continue this summer with the simplest and most effective fire prevention activities—removing slash, dead trees, etc. A survey of the Idlewild database indicated that there are approximately 85 properties without a cabin. I'll renew my request that if you are one of those property owners, please consider allowing some cleanup to occur. These simple and easy items have the greatest benefit for fire protection. Cleanup has the potential to increase the value of the property and not the taxes.

We have a new commissioner representing us with the County Commission, Landon Newton. We'll ask him to visit us over the summer to get better acquainted. The agenda for Commission meetings is available on the County website, so we have the opportunity for input on issues that might affect us.

Late in 2012, Kit Carson was asked to delay their program to bring high-speed internet to many of the communities in the area, Idlewild included. The details of the requested delay are complicated and are associated with the operation of the internet and cable services that will follow the installation. Idlewild submitted comments on the issue and was helpful in defeating the effort to delay the program. We are scheduled for an electrical service and internet installation program in 2014.

This summer, Eagle Nest will again host the High Country Arts and Crafts Festival. Last summer's festival, under the direction of the Stickneys, with the support of the Eagle Nest Chamber of Commerce, was one of the most successful ever. It's scheduled for the last weekend in July, so mark your calendar to visit that weekend. You can attend the Idlewild Annual Meeting that same day.

Our community-wide fire protection efforts have raised our profile with Colfax County and other organizations that provide us with essential services. This summer I hope to provide Idlewilders with the opportunity to meet representatives of those services such as EMS, fire departments, etc. This outreach extends to the Taos Pueblo as well, particularly for a long-term fire protection program.

Finally, there is an opportunity that we need to address as a community. I want to invite everyone to comment on the future use of the internet and email for the newsletter and other communications of interest. This is a generational as well as a cost-reduction issue. When you want to contribute you can contact me in Idlewild or by email at paul@ctspirits.com.

When I assess our situation I see a community moving forward on several fronts. This summer will see more progress.

See you on the mountain!!

Lisa and Marck Henthorn, The Woodlands

Living in the greater Houston area, our time in Idlewild is precious to us. We enjoy the slower pace and simple way of life that comes with each visit. July in the mountains is our respite; however, we do fill some of the days with activities that we love. Here are a few suggestions for an upcoming visit to the Enchanted Circle.

Angel Fire: In 2012, Angel Fire added the Rocky Mountain Zipline Adventure Tour, starting at the 10,600-foot elevation summit of the Angel Fire ski mountain. Our kids jumped at the chance of being some of the first to experience the zipline last summer. The cousins were all smiles and loved every minute of it. <http://www.angelfireresort.com/summer/mountain/zipline>.

Luckily, Angel Fire is only 10 miles away from Idlewild, because Shaboogedy's satiates our appetite for Blue Bell Ice Cream. The staff is friendly and their commitment to providing Blue Bell is commendable. An activity not for the faint of heart is mountain biking the Angel Fire Ski Resort. Our advice: rent bikes with full suspensions, wear a helmet, and invest in some padded gloves made for the sport. The boys love every minute of it! One is adventurous and takes the mountain head-on. The other is less fierce, but truly enjoys the experience. The only negative comment came from an adult male who didn't have a full-suspension bike or gloves and took a beating. He came back bloody but had an adventure to tell us all about!

<http://www.angelfireresort.com/summer/mountain/mountain-biking>. To slow the pace a little ... every Friday evening from July 5th to 28th, the 10th Annual Movie Under the Stars on the Angel Fire Country Club lawn begins at dark. The movie and popcorn are free! Be sure to pack blankets, chairs, and a jacket. <http://www.angelfireresort.com/summer/whats-happening/events-calendar>.

Red River: Although we could go on a trip down memory lane of every activity, jeep trail, horseback ride, and campsite, sticking to the "must haves" is the goal. The Go-Karts have been there as long as memory serves and still provide a great time (and they bring out the competitive nature in us all). Next-door at Tia

Zachary and Tyler Henthorn get ready for the Chili express

Buena's, the service isn't quick, but the food is homemade and consistently delicious! If you're there after 5 p.m., have Mexican food at Sundance and be sure to order a pitcher of their marvelous sangria! The trail to Goose Lake is worth every switchback and driving terror. The views are spectacular! Just be sure to only take it in a four-wheel-drive vehicle, preferably not in your luxury SUV that says "4WD." Plus, it's an all-day trip, so pack food, water, and a jacket. But probably the best time of all is a game of BINGO at the Red River Community Center on the outdoor patio. The laughs, the wins, the losses, and the screams of "Blackout" will always be cherished moments!

<http://www.redrivernewmex.com/?p=2786>.

Taos: Galleries galore and hidden gems. Taos can be revisited and a new adventure every trip. New Wave Rafting is our rafting company of choice. The guides are smart and interesting, as well as safe. Call ahead and ask questions—"How's the water running?" Some years, the "Taos Box" is doable by most ages; other years, it is for the experienced rafter only. <http://newwaverafting.com>. While on the south end of Taos, be sure to visit Rancho de Taos and the San Francisco de Asis Mission Church built in 1772. When dining out in Taos, there are two "Gotta Haves"—Taos Pizza Out Back (TPOB) and Orlando's. We don't eat out often while in New Mexico because the fresh air makes even a sandwich taste better; but when we do, we are very specific about where and what we order. TPOB is the one guaranteed thing we do every trip to NM. TPOB is a colorful, quirky, home-owned pizza joint. From their perfect crust to the tremendous options, you can't go wrong! The slices are enormous! Be sure to order a salad (a small is plenty for two) served with their homemade pesto dressing ... and keep a little to dip your crust! Another all-time favorite is their Green Chili Posole—YUM! Orlando's patio is a casual and friendly place to enjoy the Christmas Tree Stacked Enchiladas; but don't miss out on their out-of-this-world Avocado Pie, a heavenly frozen treat. For an upscale food experience, the Trading Post in Rancho de Taos is fabulous! Ask for the chef's special and don't be surprised if it is fresh, flown-in-that-day seafood! An unexpected find last year was Petree's Nursery. Native plants and blooming beauties fill the many greenhouses! Well worth the winding roads west of the square!

<http://www.petreenursery.com>

Cimarron: Philmont is an American treasure. Gifted to the Boy Scouts of America by Waite Phillips, Philmont Scout Ranch has challenged scouts with intense treks and majestic views for decades. It celebrates its 75th year in 2013. The public is welcome to visit the museum and trading post. Cimarron Canyon is the home of our very favorite hiking trail. Clear Creek Trail can be found at mile marker 292 in Cimarron Canyon (where the water flows through the log). The waterfalls are beautiful and it's easy enough for a beginner. Nearby is the "beaver dam," as we call it. You'll catch a few of us fly-fishing when allowed; sometimes it's closed due to fire danger. Please adhere to the rules and regulations. Parking passes are needed for any vehicle parked in Cimarron Canyon.

Eagle Nest: We have become lifetime friends with several of the locals. It is our hope that you will always consider giving Eagle Nest retailers and vendors your primary business. They are good people who care for our community during the many months we are not in Idlewild. Shop Local First! Did you know Eagle Nest is the home to the largest fireworks display in New Mexico? Every July 4th, we look forward to the parade and Firemen's BBQ. But our favorite is piling into the back of the vehicle with blankets pulled to our chins watching the fireworks over Eagle Nest Lake from atop Idlewild. Truly a breathtaking treasure to the area. The High Country Arts and Crafts Festival held in late July is full of talented wares. Many of our Idlewilders volunteer their time and effort in making this event a success. Please show your appreciation for their love of the arts and Eagle Nest by visiting this event if you are in town. If you need a place to rest and enjoy a little people-watching, the boardwalk at the Laguna Vista Saloon is ideal! The Laguna Vista Saloon is one of the top-rated saloons of the West and dates back to 1898. Rumor has it that what was originally the brothel is haunted! <http://lagunavistalodge.com/saloon/>. Farmer's Market at the Golden Eagle brings in quality produce, bread, cheese, and other assorted items on Fridays beginning late June. When it comes to farmer's markets, this is a good one!

<http://www.goldeneaglernv.com/Events.html>

What I really want my busy city friends to know is that the thing we love most about our time in Idlewild is sitting by a fire visiting with friends enjoying the crisp nights! The ability to breathe, to actually enjoy the moment, to literally slow the pace at which we live . . . that's what we do when we're there!

Kids love to add to the artwork, (graffiti) on the wall at Taos Outback

Memorials and honorariums

Memorials and Honorariums

Joan Kaye

We would like to remind members of the Community that Idlewild supports a Memorial and Honorarium program, whereby a donation can be made to the Community remembering a special person (living or dead). I have handled this program for over 10 years. When a donation is made, the Treasurer notifies me and I send a nice printed card from Idlewild and let the family of the honoree know who made the donation (not the amount, just the donation). The donation can be designated any way the giver wishes; for example, when Max Helen Harrison passed away, it was her family's wish that the donations be used by the church music program.

In the past we have received generous contributions for some of our much-loved Idlewilders. In recent years, this has been neglected. We hope that this mention in the newsletter may help to generate some more funds. (We always seem to need more funds). If you have any questions, please call me at 214-351-1869.

Idlewild Worship News

Donna Porter, Worship Chairman

An exciting year is before us on every single Sunday morning!! Our little outdoor pulpit will be filled with interesting preachers and the music will delight us as well. Many of the ministers and spouses are musically talented, so add that to our own talent and you can expect the Idlewild pines to ring with beautiful sounds.

Many of our favorite preachers are returning and, in addition to those, we will be blessed with some new faces from many exciting locations. Rev. Bruce Benson, a retired chaplain of St. Olaf College, has been a part of The Prairie Home Companion broadcasts as well as serving as the Cruise Chaplain on the 2012 Prairie Home Companion Cruise with Garrison Keillor. Another new face to Idlewild will be the Rev. Dr. Troy Messenger from New York City. Dr. Messenger is a personal friend and fellow musician with our own Ron Wells and we look forward to sharing our Idlewild fellowship with Troy. The latest news is that Dr. Messenger will not be bringing his oboe to Idlewild, but will share musical talent with us in other ways! A few years ago, several Idlewilders attended the Dallas wedding of Cari Kaye, the daughter of Joan and Bob. The minister who presided, Rev Willis Greene, will be with us in July at Annual Meeting Sunday.

I could go on and on about the wonderful lineup of ministers coming to lead us in worship during the summer of 2013. Thank you very much for sending me the names of great preachers. Not all of the names that were turned in could work out their schedule for this summer, but they have asked to be remembered for next year.

Thank you for sharing your interest in keeping our Idlewild Community Church alive and vibrant! You are a wonderful community and we may now look forward to worshipping together this summer. Please travel safely and we will see each other "on our mountain"!

2012 Annual Meeting minutes

Idlewild Community Annual Meeting

July 29, 2012 President Paul Fahrenthold called the meeting to order with a welcome and passed out the agenda and minutes. Theo Houser opened the meeting with a prayer.

The guest speakers were Mike Berne, president of the Eagle Nest Chamber of Commerce, and Scott Gibson, Fire Chief of the Eagle Nest Volunteer Fire Department. Mr. Berne thanked the Idlewild volunteers for making the High Country Arts and Crafts Festival a successful event. He said that he is new to the area and owns the Great Escapes Motel. Chief Gibson entertained questions. He said that there have been very few lightning-strike fires, and encouraged the community to keep chipping slash.

After thanking the guests, President Fahrenthold expressed appreciation to the outgoing IWCC directors, Sue Dorr, Ann Matta, and Donna Porter, for their service to the community.

Report of the Nominating Committee

Lewis Palmer gave the report, which nominated the following persons to serve a three-year term on the board: John Forbis, Nancy Junkin, Rick Palmer, and Jeffrey Tidmore. Skip Johnson moved to accept the slate; Bill Bratton seconded. The motion carried.

Treasurer's Report

Sparky Eckles presented the Treasurer's Report. Jerry Thomason asked how the membership can help the treasurer. Skip Johnson commented that a comparison of the current year's income with last year's could tell if there was a noticeable change, and if so, the board could try to find out why the change occurred (are we doing something that pleases or displeases the community?). Jerry Thomason moved to accept the report; Skip Johnson seconded. The motion carried.

Paul Fahrenthold spoke of a property transfer to Thornhill. He also spoke of progress with the installation of road signs for EMS and the Eagle Nest Fire Department, and reported on the progress made by the chipper and cleanup program.

Committee Reports

Frank Ray reported on the Data Management, Map, and Directory committees with Jim Herman. The reports are filed with the Board of Directors.

Special thanks to Helen Hyams for proofreading services.

Kathy Michael gave the newsletter report. She asked for more news to be sent to her for the newsletter; she's looking for contributors. The deadline for the Fall 2012 issue is October 1st and the Fall issue comes out by November 1st. The deadline for the Spring 2013 issue is April 1st, and the issue comes out by May 1st. Kathy asked the committee chairs to be more prompt with filing reports. She also would appreciate photos from any source, and is looking for people to send in additional email addresses for the email version of the newsletter.

Future Activities

Kit Carson is planning a system-wide revamp of its broadband internet service.

Minutes of the 2011 meeting

Theo Houser moved to accept the minutes; Barbara Eckles seconded. The motion carried.

New Business

Chris Herring said that the roads need moisture before extensive grading work can be done.

Carolyn Cunningham confirmed that the bedrock on Road 9 is difficult to reshape, for example.

The next Annual Meeting will be on Sunday, July 28, 2013.

Theo Houser moved to adjourn the meeting. Donna Porter seconded. The motion carried.

Next annual meeting Sunday July 28, 2013

Biographies

Paul Fahrenthold

I was born in Houston, Texas, in 1937, and attended parochial schools until college. My college education was at the University of Texas, Rice University, and the University of Houston. As a young chemical engineer, I worked in the chemical industry in the construction of chemical-processing plants. In 1973 I joined the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and began a career as an environmental engineer. After 9+ years with the EPA, I rejoined the private sector and in 1986 formed Fahrenthold & Associates, Inc. Since forming the company, my wife Denny, our son Michael, and I have carried out many environmental projects for major corporations and supported environmental litigation, as requested. As our three children grew up, I took on the usual roles of dad as soccer coach, academic tutor, and main provider for prom dresses and other essentials, while maintaining a busy business schedule.

In 1998 the family made the move back to Texas. We live not far from the location where my father's parents and grandparent settled when they immigrated to Texas in the 1850s. Our kids are now adults and we have six grandkids. In 2002 we completed our transition to our new cabin on Road 9 from visiting Idlewild at the Gist cabin. We are long-time visitors and are happily making mountain memories with our kids and grandkids.

I have served as president of the Idlewild board for the past two years. After my selection, I recognized the value of Idlewild to our area and Colfax County in particular. During that time I have focused our efforts on a number of issues such as forest cleanup and promoting Idlewild's visibility and value to our Community. I hope to continue my service with your help.

Kathleen Michael

I am a long time resident of Amarillo. I have spent the last 15 years in pharmaceutical sales which I enjoy very much. I first came to Idlewild in 1989 to visit Randy's Aunt Barbara Cullender (McClemore). I purchased the Lazy Lizard about 8 years ago. I can't wait till the time I can be up all summer long. Randy and I have one son Chris Michael. I have been the newsletter editor for several years and enjoy serving in this role.

Chris Herring

I first came to Idlewild with my sister Brenda Krenak in 1994. After visiting with long-time friends Jim and Lynda Sudduth and Ron and Dottie Wells, Brenda and I looked into purchasing the Dane cabin. In 1995 Brenda, her husband Patrick Krenak, and I finalized the purchase of the cabin. Later, in 2002, the Krenaks built a home in Angel Fire, selling their interest in the cabin to me.

I graduated from Southwest Texas State University in 1979 with a bachelor's degree in music education. Upon graduation, I taught in Carrizo Springs, Wharton, and San Antonio, Texas. After retiring in 2007, I served on the Idlewild Board of Directors, participating with Bob and Joan Kaye, Lynda Sudduth, and the Ways and Means Committee on the purchase of the Caretaker's new home. Recently, I worked with Don Woolsey and Lewis Palmer, taking part in the acquisition of the new additions to the Caretaker's home.

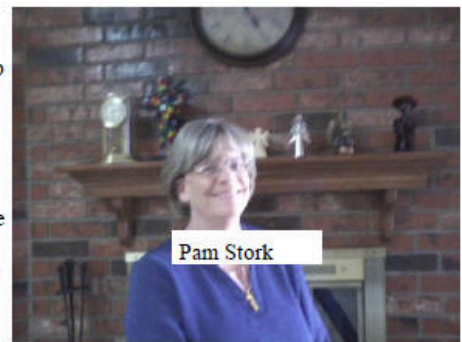

I enjoy the outdoors and am an avid fly-fisher. When not enjoying relaxing at my cabin, I can usually be found on Eagle Nest Lake or area streams fishing with good friend Don Herman.

Pam Stork

My family has been coming to Idlewild ever since my parents, Jack and Dorothy Davis, bought the Clyde McClain cabin in 1985. My husband, Arnold, and I retired from farming five years ago and live in Dumas, Texas. I have had one semester of accounting from Amarillo College, which I used to keep the books for our farming business. Moving to Dumas, we started a chimney business and in 2011 we sold the business.

With two grown married sons, five grandchildren, and a very special nephew and his wife and son, we have made many family trips to Idlewild. Whether we fish, snow ski, snowmobile, just hike on the mountain, or spend a white Christmas at the cabin, Idlewild is the perfect family vacation.

I believe that God has entrusted to each of us to be good stewards of that part of Idlewild that we own, so that our children, grandchildren, and each generation afterward can enjoy the beauty that Idlewild offers. It would be my pleasure to serve on the board of Idlewild.

The Great Outdoors Camp

Laura Holbrook

The Great Outdoors Camp would be a great activity for Idlewild kids and grand-kids. The GO Camp is a free morning (9:00 to noon) camp open to children ages 10-14. It is held at Eagle Nest Lake State Park and is usually scheduled during the last half of July each year. This will be our third year. In 2011 we registered 20 kids, in 2012 we had 60, and for 2013 our goal is to reach 60 to 80.

The current sponsors include The New Mexico Department of Game & Fish, New Mexico Parks Department, Eagle Nest Lake State Park, Eagle Nest Chamber of Commerce, and The Friends of Eagle Nest Lake & Cimarron Canyon State Parks. Other volunteers include The National Forest Service, Trout Unlimited, Gary Bowen as a historian, and various other individuals who have taught flint-knapping and more. Classes have included boating safety, bb gun safety, archery, fishing, fly-tying and casting, land conservation, the history of the New Mexico Mountain Man, entomology, outdoor-related crafts, ATV safety, and more. Note that a fishing license is required for children 12 and over.

One of the great things to come out of the Camp is that the kids get a real sense of working together in teams and, of course, they learn about the great outdoors. This Camp is valuable not just to the campers and their families, but to the park, the community of Eagle Nest, and the Moreno Valley. I am looking for a volunteer to partner with me in planning the Camp as well as volunteers to help during the Camp and at other events throughout the year. This could be a rewarding and enjoyable project for any volunteer.

Idlewilders who are interested in the Camp should contact me at the phone number or email address below. We also have a facebook page titled "Great Outdoors Camp," which includes photos and more information. I am the contact for the Camp and may be reached either by email (wimberleyjuniper@gmail.com) or by phone at 575-377-9480.
